DISCOVER THE TOP MONEY EXPERTS' BEST MONEY-MAKING AND CAPITAL-PRESERVATION STRATEGIES

Dear Fellow Investors:

For thousands of savvy investors, The Money Show San Francisco presents an opportunity to hear first-hand the personal insights of Wall Street's leading investment experts as we head into the crucial mid-term election cycle. In-depth knowledge about the markets and the forces driving them will help you determine what to buy, what to sell, why you should hold, and how to time your entries and exits. That knowledge, coupled with the best tools and the training to use those tools effectively, will make all the difference to your bottom line.

Our experts can help you unravel the effects of rising interest rates on the economy, stock markets, and various asset classes. You'll learn how the next round of technology and biotechnology breakthroughs will influence stock prices in their sectors, how to analyze volatile global markets and determine the hot spots for current and future investments, as well as discern the long-term market and economic effects and opportunities of geopolitical turmoil in the Middle East, Asia, and Europe.

Learn how to effectively identify and evaluate the most promising innovations and the companies driving them. You can be among the first to hear—and fully grasp—the importance of watershed innovations in AI, personalized medicine, wireless, and learn successful strategies for incorporating tech and biotech into a profitable portfolio.

Take full advantage of your FREE pass, which entitles you to attend multiple in-depth special tracks throughout the conference, including Women on Wealth, Finding Opportunities in Global Markets, The All-Stars of Options Trading, The Money, Metals, & Mining Symposium, The World of ETF Investing, and many more!

Visit the interactive Exhibit Hall featuring numerous investment- and trading-related products and services from the top firms in the nation. Check out the latest high-tech trading software, find out about cutting-edge service providers and brokers, hear exciting corporate presentations from leading public companies, and examine top advisory newsletters. Only at The MoneyShow can you personally "test drive" the latest and most popular investing and trading tools while meeting and learning from top money management gurus, economic analysts, independent advisors, and trading experts.

Our goal is to keep you knowledgeable about the issues driving the markets and impacting your portfolio, to provide you with the best possible ongoing investor education, and to ensure that you are aware of the products and services available to help you achieve your personal financial goals.

To your financial success,

Kim K. Githler | Chair & CEO

BetterInvesting's Interactive Stock Clinic

Thursday, August 23 • 11:00 am – 1:15 pm

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INVESTORS CORPORATION

BETTERINVESTING

Empowering Investors Since 1951

In this special two-hour session, stock experts Kamie Zaracki,

Doug Gerlach, and Craig Braemer will demonstrate the BetterInvesting method of fundamental stock analysis and show how it can be used to evaluate stocks. They will conclude with a real time "stock clinic" in which they will quickly review stocks suggested by attendees and provide their own stock ideas for the remainder of 2018. The class will include two sessions:

Four Common-Sense Steps to Evaluate Stocks for Growth, Quality, and Return

You've collected many stock ideas to help build your portfolio. But how do you evaluate them for long-term growth and ROI? In this session, Kamie Zaracki shows you how to apply four common-sense steps to identify quality companies and assess whether its stock has the potential to generate a high return for you.

Stock Clinic: Stocks to Watch and Stocks to Avoid for the Rest of 2018

As the bull market continues in its eighth year, where are the best—and the worst—opportunities for equity investors in 2018? Hear Craig Braemer's and Doug Gerlach's best stock ideas for the year, pulled from the award-winning Investor Advisory Service newsletter, holdings of America's top investment clubs, and emerging equity plays from the SmallCap Informer newsletter. In addition, Doug and Craig will offer on-the-spot analyses of stocks suggested by attendees. Bring your ideas and position your portfolio for the best that the rest of 2018 might bring.

Energy, Economic Growth, and the "Invisible Hand"

KATHLEEN HARTNETT-WHITE

Distinguished Senior Fellow & Director, Armstrong Center for Energy & the Environment

An energy revolution begun in Texas not long ago, now well underway, is spreading its dominance across the world. This shale gale is driven not by nationally owned energy company's (NOCs) as is the cartel known as OPEC or huge multi-national corporations, but by small- to medium-sized energy companies operating in a competitive market. The economic and geopolitical opportunities are colossal. Will the "invisible hand" of the market prevail to fuel economic growth of the 21st century?

Less Central Bank Monetary Stimulus? Can Economic Growth and Markets Remain Resilient?

BRUCE JOHNSTONE

Managing Director, Fidelity Investments

Monetary stimulus from virtually every central bank around the world has fostered a modest, but enduring economic recovery since the financial crisis. Stock markets have followed suit for the past nine years. Now, that quantitative easing that has been rampant is on the cusp of being withdrawn. This presentation will attempt to discuss the ramifications of such a potential change in liquidity and its effects on world economic growth and the resultant markets outlook.

Mid-Terms and Markets

DAVID CALLAWAY

CEO, TheStreet, Inc.

A year after taxes, healthcare, and infrastructure swept the imagination of investors, where do we stand in stocks looking out toward the mid-term elections. Can we depend on the dollar, European markets, and a steady increase in interest rates? Ten years after the great financial crisis, what is the story investors can learn from Wall Street? TheStreet.com CEO David Callaway will share how the coming elections could make or break the market's year.

He will provide analysis on a range of stocks and illustrate the patterns he's looking for and how he determines where they are in their development.

Options Don't Have to Be Risky KERRY GIVEN

Founder, Parkland Capital, LLC

Conservative investors, like Warren Buffett, use options to grow their portfolios and protect against corrections. Many academic studies have shown that the conservative use of options in a stock portfolio will outperform the classic buy and hold strategy with higher annual returns, smaller drawdowns and a lower standard deviation (less risk). Hear how Dr. Duke's clients sailed through the February correction and continue to grow their portfolios conservatively.

Beyond Bitcoin: The Future of Digital Currencies
SEAN WORTHINGTON
Author, Beyond Bitcoin: The Future of Digital Currency

Digital currencies like Bitcoin have become today's hot topic as people make millions off their meteoric rise in value. Digital currencies allow us to trade with anyone in the world. It's like spending cash directly from our own computers. In theory, there are no banking fees and no worries about identity theft. You have privacy, and your money is protected from any government's inflating currency. When Bitcoin came out, most of us didn't buy any. We didn't get involved. And we missed the significance of this technology. But are there profits still to be made?

Morningstar's Best Ideas for 2018 and Beyond
CHRISTINE BENZ
Director of Personal Finance Morningstar

Christine Benz will discuss Morningstar's philosophy for evaluating stocks, mutual funds, and exchange-traded funds. She'll then share the firm's current assessment of the equity market, based on its bottom-up research. Which sectors, investment styles, and geographies look the most attractive, and which are the most overvalued? Finally, she'll discuss where Morningstar's analysts are finding opportunities today and how that translates into specific stock, mutual fund, and ETF picks.

Learn About the Leaders of Transformative Markets
NEIL GEORGE
Editor in Chief, Profitable Investing

Nearly all the globe's primary economies are growing, and this growth is driving waves of business investment and consumer spending. But the beneficiaries aren't the bold-faced name companies of the past. Instead, there are a host of innovative companies transforming markets and delivering growth and dividends for their shareholders. In this presentation, Neil George will discuss the wave of changes that are underway and advancing and the best markets and companies that are cashing in on what's next.

The "Everything Bust": Causes, Consequences, and Profit Opportunities
MIKE LARSON
Senior Analyst, Weiss Ratings

Nine long years of bull market, 667 worldwide interest rate cuts, $15-trillion-plus of global QE, and $10 trillion in additional government debt have left investors wealthy, complacent...and more vulnerable than ever before! That's because we've experienced an "Everything Bubble" that has swept up assets of all types. Now, an "Everything Bust" may be rapidly approaching. Mike Larson will explain the causes and consequences of this shocking development, as well as discuss the unique profit opportunities it presents.

Generate Superior Equity Returns and Income with Dividends and Options
JOHN DOBOSZ
Editor, Forbes Dividend Investor & Forbes Premium Income Report

John Dobosz will discuss his approach to generating equity income by investing in undervalued dividend stocks and selling options for additional income. Learn an approach to generating equity income from undervalued dividend stocks and selling options, along with key indicators for choosing those stocks, and gain insight into how to identify attractive options selling opportunities.

Dividend Growth: The “Stealth Growth” Strategy*

Thursday, August 23 • 9:45 am – 12:45 pm

Tim Plaehn
Investors Alley

Kelley Wright
Investment Quality
Trends

Dividends are often associated with slow-growth companies and defensive-minded investing. Yet this overlooks a couple of key facts. Dividends and dividend growth have historically accounted for the lion's share of stock total returns. Moreover, companies that are rapidly growing their payouts can be found in some of the fastest-growing sectors of the economy.

This gives rise to a largely underutilized strategy: “Stealth growth” investing, which centers around buying quality stocks with a penchant for dividend growth. Come discover how (and why) it works, find out which sectors offer the most promising dividend growth, and scan the entire equity universe to uncover the best values. Courtesy of these true industry-leading experts, you'll take home specific stock ideas—including in tech and other growth sectors—each one set up to produce safe growth in ways that may have never even made your radar before!

Managing Risk Around the Business Cycle Using Sector Rotation*

Thursday, August 23 • 10:00 am – 1:00 pm

Martin Pring, publisher, Intermarket Review, will explain how you can recognize each stage in the business cycle and give you the tools to achieve that.

He will also answer the question of what sectors and asset classes have traditionally performed best in each of these financial seasons, as well as those to avoid.

Topics Covered Will Include:

- What the business cycle is, and how it determines the turning points of bonds, stocks, and commodities
- How the cycle can be divided into six stages (seasons) providing the framework to use as a roadmap for optimum asset allocations
- How to follow simple indicators to help you identify the prevailing stage of the cycle
- How this approach can tell you what sectors (ETFs) to buy and when to sell them
- How to determine whether inflation- or deflation-hedge stocks are the place to be
- Basic technical tools that help identify primary trend reversals, including an extended discussion on long-term smoothed momentum
- A full discussion of the principles of relative strength and how to apply them in a practical way
- An outline of profitable intermarket strategies and how to apply them using ETFs and other vehicles.

If you want to be on the right side of the market in any environment, you won't want to miss this in-depth session, taught by the man described by Barron's as the “technician's technician.”

How to Generate Monthly Cash Flow and Purchase a Stock at a Discount Using Two Low-Risk Option Strategies*

Friday, August 24 • 10:15 am – 1:15 pm

Stock option strategies can be crafted to meet specific goals and match personal risk-tolerance. In this

Master Class, Dr. Alan Ellman, author of four best-selling books on covered-call writing, will focus on two low-risk option-selling strategies designed to generate monthly cash flow and buy a stock at a discount. He will discuss five actionable strategies and provide information for both beginner and more advanced option traders, such as covered call writing, selling cash-secured puts, the PCP (put-call-put) strategy, portfolio overwriting (leveraging our long-term buy-and-hold portfolios to achieve higher returns), and the zero-dollar collar.

This Master Class Will Cover:

- The three essential skills necessary to achieve the highest level of returns
- The impact of overall market assessment on option selection
- The use of options to protect portfolio gains
- How to use options to buy a stock at a discount in lieu of using limit orders
- How to calculate option returns
- Why early exercise is so rare and how to avoid it in high-risk scenarios
- The key roles of earnings reports and dividends when employing option-selling

Free DVDs and free access to the Ellman call and put calculators will be available to all attendees!

Town Hall Meeting with Legendary Investor Jim Rogers*

Friday, August 24 • 11:00 am – 1:00 pm

The ability to pose your own personal investing-related questions to legendary investor Jim Rogers is unquestionably a valuable experience. Institutional investors would undoubtedly pay a fortune to “pick his brains.” Listening to other investors’ questions, and hearing the answers they receive, can also trigger important realizations or additional questions of your own. In San Francisco we’ve planned a two-hour session that will allow you to do just exactly that.

No speech, no presentation; just an open Q&A forum, in which you get to ask one of the world’s most renowned investors...anything you want. Find out what he would see if he were looking at your portfolio, how he’s investing in the current market environment, and the perils and possibilities he sees ahead!

The first 100 people who purchase tickets will receive an autographed copy of Jim Rogers’ book, Street Smarts: Adventures on the Road and in the Markets.

Identifying Key Turning Points in the Cryptocurrency Market*

Friday, August 24 • 2:15 pm – 5:15 pm

Ryan Wilday is an analyst covering cryptocurrencies at ElliottWaveTrader.net. He has over 17 years’ experience trading equities, futures, and options. He began trading cryptocurrencies in 2013, and today, he melds his deep knowledge of the cryptocurrency market with Elliott Wave theory and Fibonacci Pinball. In this Master Class, he will explain how he uses Elliott Wave Theory and Fibonacci Pinball to identify key turning points in the cryptocurrency market.

Topics Covered Will Include:

- The basics of the Elliot Wave Theory and a brief lesson in Elliott Wave and Fibonacci Pinball analysis
- Historic price patterns in a few of the key large-cap cryptocurrencies and how it suggests future expectations. He’ll review charts of Bitcoin, Litecoin, Ethereum, NEO, Ripple, and EOS and a few others.
- How he uses Elliott Wave Theory to make high-probability trades on many time frames
- Why he believes we will see a major top in the crypto market by early- to mid-2019, similar to Bitcoin’s greater than one-year decline after the Mt. Gox hack in 2011. This coming event is called “crypto winter” by Ryan and his subscribers.

In the closing 45 minutes of this session, Ryan will conduct a “Chart by Request” session. Get ready to see a chart review of your favorite cryptocurrency.

LUNCH

The Best Stocks for a Defiant Bull Market*

Saturday, August 25 • 12:35 pm – 2:05 pm

The current bull market has continued to defy all expectations. Slow growth has resulted in low inflation, which in turn, has produced higher multiples and better-than-expected returns. But with mounting deficits, political gridlock, and higher global debt levels, investor fears have seldom been higher. Yet, from emotional extremes come tremendous profit opportunities—if you know where to look.

Join this panel of top stock experts as they walk through the various sectors of the market to help you identify great companies that can deliver solid income and growth—even when this bull market is getting long in the tooth

High-Odds Seasonal Trading Strategies*

Saturday, August 25 • 2:15 pm – 5:15 pm

The good news about seasonal trading is that it's 100% objective and never subject to interpretation! The best news about seasonal trading is that every seasonal trade is backed by solid rules and huge statistical validation.

50-year market veteran Jake Bernstein began his trading career in 1967. Since then, he has written over 45 trading books, spoken at leading investment conferences the world over, and been a guest on major business shows such as CNBC and Wall Street Week. His trading tools and market research are widely followed by top traders, brokerage firms, banks, hedge funds, and independent traders.

This Master Class will also show you how to trade seasonal spreads and futures with a focus on minimum risk with high-odds potential.

If you find and trade seasonals, based on the method and rules you will learn from seasonal trading pioneer, Jake Bernstein, you will always know:

- How to find the best seasonal trades in forex, stocks, and futures
- Exactly when to buy and sell
- Exact risk and stop loss
- Odds of success for every trade
- How to maximize profits
- Entire history of each trade
- How to plan and execute seasonal trades
- Precision timing and current trades with results

Don't miss this rare opportunity to learn directly from the seasonal-trading master himself! Space is limited.

The Strategy That Has ALWAYS Worked*

Saturday, August 25 • 2:30 pm – 5:30 pm

This strategy beat the market in the 50s; trounced the market in the 60s; obliterated the market in the 70s; crushed the market in the 80s; pummeled the market in the 90s; smashed the market in the 2000s; and massively outperformed the market in the 2010s. Now...with all of this outperformance, you might think this is a high-risk strategy...and you would be wrong! This strategy is far lower risk than buy-and-hold. And, not one time, not in all the massive bear markets over the past 90 years, did this strategy have any major losses...not once.

Mike Turner, president, Turner Capital Investments, will show you how this strategy works and how to do it without spending a penny on high-end software or spending huge amounts on financial consultants. This Master Class is the reason you are attending this year's The MoneyShow San Francisco. Come be prepared to get your socks completely knocked off!
